

Rwatgg.com

This website has interactivity on the level that I would like to have on my website. Although it doesn't quite match my internal pages, it similar design elements as my homepage.

Coffitivity.com

This website also has a level of interaction that I would like to have for my website. Furthermore, it has certain elements such as play/pause, and selections that I think would be similar to my homepage.

Zenhabits.org

This website has the overall mood and simplicity that I would like to have on my website. Although my website will be more complex, this is more of a baseline.
